the products of last season.

—The Salvation Army were assisted at Casson's hall last evening by reinforcements from the east—the squad being enroute for Whitewater to renew the attack on that place. It is rumored that some changes will take place among the commanders at this post very soon.

—The Recorder will find that everything the Gazette has published regarding cases before any of the courts is recorded in the various dockets. If the Recorder wish to pay an occasional visit to the courts, instead of taking his report of the proceedings from the Gazette, he can read over the official minutes, and thus satisfy himself that what we have said is true.

—There was more damage connected with the runaway horse of Mr. Wheeler, yesterday morning, than was mentioned in last evening's Gazette. On entering the store of Mr. French, the horse struck and wrecked a valuable bedstead, a part of a fancy chamber set, and smashed several other articles in his hurried passage through the store. On entering a large pane of glass in the front window was broken. While the damage was not very great, it was a very narrow escape.

—This morning Justice Richland gave his decision in the case of the Power City machine company against H. S.
Pomeroy. The suit was to recover payment for some tobacco boxes built by the plaintiff and which the defendant refused to settle for on account of an alleged failure to comply with terms of the contract. William Street appeared for the plaintiff and C. E. Pierce for the defendant. The plaintiff was awarded eighty-seven dollars and fifty cents.

—Last night a young man heiling from Beloit, tarried among the Janesville "bode fountains" until after the "closing up" hour, and succeeded in so filling himself with gas that he made a regular fool of himself; he managed to fodge the marshal, however, and drove for home at a rapid gait. He will probably not visit Janesville again very soon, for fear that he may be compelled to explain before the municipal court the cause of his attacking a woman on the public streets.

—People residing in the second ward are again agitating the building of a bridge across Rock river, either at North Second or North Fourth streets. If such an enterprise is ever accomplished it will have to be done by private subscriptions, and realizing this fact, some of the more enthusiastic of the agitators are quietly conversing to see how much money can be raised for a bridge at either point mentioned. It is said a suitable pile bridge could be constructed for a very small sum.

—The Rev. D. O. Jones, a well known M. E. minister of the Wisconsin conference, who at the last conference was placed on the superannuated list, died quite unexpectedly at Oshkosh Thursday night of consumption. He was born in Carnarvonshire, Wales, Dec. 21, 1821.
He was appointed chaplain at large by President Lincoln, and stationed at Beaufort, N. C., during the war. He has been located in many places in this conference since the war, and was at one time pastor of the Methodist church in this city.

—A dispatch from Beloit last evening, says: "The crop outlook in this locality is generally good. The wet weather has helped the spring work a little, but sowing and planting has been done about as usual, excepting that corn planting will be a few days later in the heavy soil districts than some seasons. Rye is heading out and an early harvest is assured. Winter wheat looks splendidly.
The fruit crop promises to be very abundant. Notwithstanding the discouragements which the tobacco growers met with last season, a large amount will be grown again this season."

—Mr. Henry Siebers, inspector of public buildings, gave the Myers house a thorough inspection this morning, and then had an extended interview with Mr.
Myers regarding the putting up of fire escapes, as required by law. Mr. Myers informed the inspector that he was now negotiating for a new improved steam boating apparatus for the hotel, and that he would put up the fire escapes at once, in accordance with the requirements of the state law. The Grand hotel was also inspected, and fire escapes are to be put on that building also. Mr. Siebers will be in the city again in a few days, to see that the law has been complied with.

—The June number of the "Wide Awake," published by D. Lothrop & Co., of Boston, comes to us as bright as any morning. A charming frontispiece illustrating "Japanese Boys and Girls" is followed by a number of choice containing. The table of contents includes an exciting tale, "The Red Plum Tavern" by Mary Hartwell Catherwood.
Mrs. Drush furnishes a good historical sketch, entitled, "A Tender Heart," and Prof. C. E. G. Roberts, of Kings college Canada, has a finely written story of adventure. Historical sketches and choice poems help to make the June number especially attractive. The Wide Awake is unexcelled as a magazine for children and young people. Subscription price $3.00 a year.

—The many friends of Paymaster Henry T. Wright will be pleased to learn that his relatives in the city feel that there is no special cause for mourning concerning the reported over-ride steamer Nipisic. The steamer sailed from Montevideo March 24th, and a letter written the day of sailing, from Mr. Wright to his brother, J. T. Wright, of the first ward, says: "We shall economize on fuel, making the trip by rail instead of steam, and will reach New York somewhere from the 10th to the 20th of May." Instead of being thirty days overdue, the vessel is but barely due, and liable to appear at any moment. P. S.—Mr. Josiah T.
Wright received a dispatch this morning from his brother, Paymaster Henry T.
Wright, U. S. N., stating that the U. S. steamer Nipisic arrived at New York this morning, all well.

CIRCUIT COURT.
Selling the City on Account of a Defective Sale.

This morning a change of venue to Walworth county was taken in the case of Catherine Barrows against Herman Schultz and O. P. F. Walker against Herman Schultz. The case of Stark against the city has been on trial most of the day. The action will be remembered as one to recover damages for injuries sustained by the plaintiff in a fall on a defective sidewalk. The accident occurred last fall at the corner of River and Wall streets. So far the witnesses examined have been C. H.
Stark, W. H. Palmer, O. B. Smith, J. H.
Brooks and Henry Zerbul.

Attention, T. A. & S. Society.
A special meeting of St. Patrick's T. A. & S. Society will be held to-morrow afternoon, immediately after late mass, at the rooms of the society. All members are requested to be present, as business of importance is to be transacted.

We Went Across the Threshold.
He had never taken any lessons, but had put on the gloves with the boys a few times, and believed himself to be a little above the average. That was several days ago. Now he wonders how it was that he over thought anything of the kind; for an experience that he had the other night has changed his mind on this. He went up into a room where a number of young men were practicing the "manly art," and before long he had been persuaded to stand up with a little fellow who looked as though he might weigh about one hundred and twenty pounds. They made him promise that he wouldn't hit the scared looking lightweight very hard, and then the contest began. It didn't last very long, but there was a good deal of it while it did last. The man who thought he could box was jammed up against the wall until his teeth chattered, something much like a pile-driver hit him on the ear, and before "break away" was called he looked as though he was utterly disgusted with the whole thing. Since then his friends say that he has bought three pairs of Indian clubs and a twenty-nine pound striking bag, but he refuses to say anything about the report. The young men who took advantage of his confiding nature are now taking out life insurance policies and leasing base ball masks and padded chest protectors. It is thought that the odds is not yet.

The Dam.
The ragged appearance of the dam, as seen from the upper bridge this morning, caused many curious people to visit the dam and ascertain the cause of the same.
A reporter of the Gazette joined the throng and arriving at the dam found Superintendent Ward with a force of men, busily at work repairing the break.
Mr. Ward has completed a temporary bridge just above the dam, and now has a number of teams hauling heavy stones which are dumped into the water a few feet above the break, for the purpose of shutting off the water. Last night the water undermined one of the supports of this temporary bridge, and a portion of the old upper of the dam gave way.
The long plank lodging in the piling, and brush, were thrown into a chaotic mass, which, from the bridge below, looks as though a new break had occurred. The water will soon be shut off from the weak spot, and then the work of piling will be commenced.
Mr. Ward informed us that a system of piling would be put in below the dam, upon which a strong apron would be placed, and that instead of there being a perpendicular fall of water as now, the water would be let over the new dam on an incline, of some twenty-four or thirty feet in length. By so doing it is said the eddy will be avoided, and the back water prevented from undermining the dam. The large volume of water in the river returns somewhat the work of repairing, but Mr. Ward thinks he will be able to complete the work in due time, without serious trouble.

Knight of Pythias!
There will be a special meeting of Oriental Lodge K. of P. at Castle Hall on Monday evening at seven o'clock, to make final arrangements for the Memorial day parade. Every member is expected to be present. By order of COMMITTEE.

Advice to Mothers.
Mrs. Winklow's Baby's Syrup should always be used for children's teething. It softens the child, soothes the gums, clears all pain, cures wind, colic, and is the best remedy for diarrhea. 25c a bottle.

CHURCH DIRECTORY.

Giving the Time and Places Where Divine Services Will Be Held on Sunday.

Lord, rebuke me not in thine anger, neither chasten me in thy hot displeasure. Have mercy upon me, O Lord; for I am weak; O Lord heal me; for my bones are vexed. My soul is also sore within, O Lord, how long?

Return, O Lord, deliver my soul; obscure me not in thine anger. For in death there is no remembrance of thee; in the grave who shall give thee thanks? I am weary with my groaning; all the night make I my bed to swim; I water my couch with my tears. Mine eye is consumed because of grief; it waxeth old because of all mine enemies. Depart from me, all ye workers of iniquity; for the Lord hath heard the voice of my weeping. The Lord hath heard my supplication; the Lord will receive my prayer.

Let all mine enemies be ashamed and sore vexed; let them return and be astonished suddenly.

There evidently is one kind of business for which women seem to be well fitted, judging from the number engaged in it, and that is telegraphy. Still, about the city and dropping into almost any telegraph office from Harlem to the Battery there may be seen the female operator, and, as a general thing, she will be seen to be young and pretty and wide awake to her business. She will sometimes have about her a number of subordinates of the opposite sex in the form of callow youths and messengers, boys over her shoulder is with a right royal will and an air of authority that is charming to behold. Can really these young women be very pleasant and obliging; only occasionally will one cross a terror, whose very look will freeze him to the marrow. However, they all seem to give satisfaction to their employers and to attend well to their work, and appear to be rapidly monopolizing the telegraphic business.

Far out on the western plains, wherever there is a road station, almost invariably the traveler sees a pretty lady or muslin curtain at the window, a bird cage hanging up and a scene of domestic life on the narrow sill, or a vice trained up over the rail door these stations all along the line of the road are painted a dull, dark red, and other signs of domestic presence, and if he looks out on the train stops he will be nearly sure to see a bright, neatly-dressed white-aproned young woman come to the door and stand gazing out at the train and waiting for the train to pass, and half-sorry air. This is the local telegraph operator, who has taken up her lonely life out here on the alkali desert, amid the sage brush, where only gophers and the world she has left behind her this brief negotiation with the trains which pass and repeat two or three times during the day. These are true types, all of them, of our brave American girl, whose courage is equal to any emergency.—New York World.

How to Get a Pearly Skin.
I see a lot of people on the street who are out of order internally. What they need is artificial aid. They are too lazy to walk, and too much of the time they are in the treatment, especially for the skin, is necessary, and though it may seem so, this is highly recommended. A table-spoonful of such taken every other morning for a week, then omitted for three mornings, and then taken again will clear the complexion, but will probably make the black specks that bother women so much more numerous for a week or two. A mixture of powdered borax in diluted glycerine, rubbed on at night in connection with the other treatment, will soon cause them to disappear.
Wash this off carefully in the morning with soap and water in which there is a little ammonia. This is not recommended for women who are stonily built, nervous in temperament, and apparently bloodless, but for those who suffer because of the oiliness of their skin it has the commendation of an eminent physician.

After a bath, the woman who wishes to make her skin healthy and develop her body will find it best to rub her body with either almond or olive oil under the knees, about the throat and neck, and from there to her waist, adapting the movement of the hands to the shape, so that no hurt is possible. The hair should be thoroughly washed and the scalp rubbed with a hairbrush, and the body invariably give a positive command about the rubbing, insisting that the development can not be accomplished unless the friction is as vigorously supplied as the work. Then, if success is attained, the wash receives all the appreciation, whereas the credit is due to the rubbing. Almond or olive oil is only used to make the skin pliable and to open the pores, for it is in the defence of the rubber that the perfectly formed woman in Oriental lands knows she is indebted.—Cor. Boston Globe.

Taking a Partner for Life.
"Would you advocate early marriages?" asked one of the party of the lady who had in a measure resolved herself into an authority. "In some cases," at least I would urge that young people do not see too much of each other before marriage, except in the company of their elders. Mothers are to blame for imprudent matches. Let them see that their daughters do not expect objectable men. Let them see that it is a succeptible maid is liable to marry almost any good-looking young man who comes along.
She usually becomes blind to his faults, and afterward no one can help her when the wedded awakening comes.

"This matter of taking a partner for life is just as serious as if there were no divorce courts to loose the knot. A woman finds it difficult to live down the odium of a separation, and the misery entailed on the children never leaves them. I consider the selection of escorts for one's daughters a matter of vital importance. Neither would I entail a daughter on a man to be identified with him, no matter how worthy, who believed in long engagements. Of course it is unwise to be hasty, but it is too bad when a girl's future is compromised by an individual who treats her about as he would other society, and yet still weighs chances as to when he exactly wants her to become his wife. I've known girls to have their whole lives spoiled by just such mistakes."
